Chariots of Fire Equestrian Centre

The Chariots of Fire Equestrian Centre is situated in the Scottish Borders a few miles north of Lockerbie, with easy access to the M74, offering excellent indoor and outdoor facilities.

The Centre was created by the late Amanda Saville, champion carriage driver, who developed a reputation for encouraging people into sports driving with regular ongoing successes. These include a Gold and Bronze medal winner at the World Para- Championships, British National Champions and many Junior Indoor and Outdoor Champions.

We specialise in bringing disabled and disadvantaged people into the sport. We create an environment based on the values of encouragement, kindness, laughter and discipline where people can feel sufficiently at ease to take on challenges that might normally seem intimidating. We have the specialist equipment (including wheelchair accessible carriages), ponies, facilities and expertise to offer those who wish to take up the opportunities available. If you are interested in learning a new skill – riding or driving – competing in sports driving or ridden disciplines, the team are keen to pass on their expertise and enthusiasm to all ages – currently from 3 to 83!

Members of the current Chariots team are champion carriage drivers. They excel in the sport and have won a number of awards. They have a strong reputation for working with individuals with special needs, learning difficulties and people with disabilities. These clients are especially empowered through the opportunity to set and achieve personal goals, and benefit from therapeutic contact with ponies and the outdoors. We work in partnership with the charity Sports Driving Unlimited who can be approached to help with funding for our activities.

Bring your own horse and we can help you to communicate effectively, solve problems and release hidden potential, creating a significantly more successful partnership. Coach House Bed and Breakfast and overnight livery and grazing are available.

The Centre is orientated towards fun, safety and developing skills in horsemanship.
